

CashDro

The POS cash drawer that always balances

Sold by SCAN COIN

The CashDro from SCAN COIN is a point of sale solution with the objective of responding to the current business needs of retailers: efficiency, profitability, control, and security. This intelligent POS cash drawer always balances even in the most demanding of environments. CashDro will maximise cash security and control at an affordable cost for all businesses.

Supermarkets, fast food, shops, bakeries, general retail, restaurants; the CashDro is a solution for every type of business. It is designed to integrate with POS software and records all transactions to guarantee maximum security in the business

The CashDro allows customers to pay with both notes and coins easily and quickly against the POS transaction value. It has been designed to optimise the cash within the system by automatically managing the coin and note level and recycles these as change to the customer, improving cash efficiency in store.

Reduce Losses

The automated cash counting means customers pay directly into the CashDro, preventing the movement of cash at the point of sale and eliminating counting errors, shrinkage and minimising potential theft. Recognising and rejecting counterfeit coins and notes is a vital function of the system which also reduces losses.

Restaurants: The POS always balances even with several cashiers working with it.

General Retail: Cashier does not interfere in the cash operation.

Supermarkets: While customer pays in, cashier can attend to the next customer

Save Time

With CashDro there is no need for cashier specific tills, removing the need to create floats and reconcile each operator. This automated cash counting not only speeds up the payment process per transaction but also means that the end of day cash will always balance, saving time all round.

Software

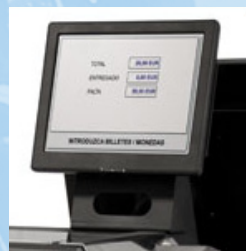

The system automatically manages the coin and note levels and optimises the cash in the system. Different user profiles can be defined and email warnings can be set up to be automatically sent to managers or supervisors to warn them of low change levels or full cashdrawers. High value bank notes can be sent direct to storage cassettes and a log and audit history is also available.

Integration

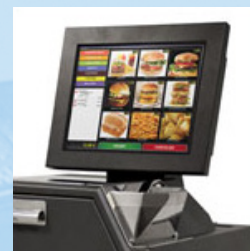

CashDro can be integrated with existing software and most POS solutions in under one hour. The CashDro has two solutions: the POS solution or the self service configuration.

Key Benefits

Fast integration gets the system in store quickly and easily. Its flexibility allows users to define different profiles and record all transactions to guarantee maximum security in the business. Automated coin counting removes cash errors and reduces cash office time. Recycling of cash at POS reduces change requirements and improves cash efficiency in store.
